2. If this is an unrecognized transaction, ask the customer service representative to have your card reported as lost/stolen and replaced. If your card is not reported as lost/stolen, the dispute process cannot begin. Disputes received where card is not reported as lost/stolen/replaced may delay the dispute process, or the card may be placed in a potential fraud status so that dispute process can proceed.
3. Complete the Transaction Dispute Form and fax or mail to Cardholder Services (contact information on bottom of page 1). It must be received within 120 days of the original transaction date.
4. If your dispute is related to suspected fraud, your account will receive a provisional credit within 10 business days once your dispute request has been validated and a case has been opened.
5. If your dispute is not related to suspected fraud, but instead you are disputing a merchant service or merchant billing error, your account will receive a credit once your dispute has been fully investigated with the merchant and completed in your favor.
6. If Cardholder Services notifies you via mail and requests that you provide additional dispute documentation, it must be received within 20 calendar days from the date listed on the letter sent to you to avoid having the provisional credit reversed.
  - o Submission of a police report should not be considered a substitute for responding to follow up affidavits received requesting signatures or other dispute documentation.
7. If the Merchant for the transaction provides adequate documentation to deny your claim (within 30 calendar days of the provisional credit), then the provisional credit will be reversed, and the dispute will be denied.
8. The typical time frame for a disputed transaction to be considered complete with permanent credit on your account is within 45-60 calendar days from the date the completed Transaction Dispute Form is received.
9. Please note: Dispute Services cannot perform legal investigations as to why fraud may have occurred or who committed the fraud, or any details related.
